Khrush May Ask End To U.S. Spy Flights

WASHINGTON (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev was considered likely today to demand at the summit conference that the United States promise to stop its spy flights over the Soviet Union.

The prospect heightened chances of a clash between President Eisenhower and the Soviet Premier over the case of the downed American U-2 plane when the East-West leaders meet in Paris next week.

Eisenhower sees the U. S. flights behind the iron curtain as needed for defense against possible surprise attack. He has served notice that he will reoffer at the summit his open skies plan for reciprocal aerial inspection.

Thursday night the United States officially charged that Moscow's treatment of the spy case casts doubt on whether Khrushchev really intends progress at the summit toward easing East-West tensions.

The U. S. allegation was contained in a 250-word note replying to the Kremlin's May 10 protest about the May Day flight deep into Soviet territory by American pilot Francis G. Powers.

The Soviets, who captured Powers and claim to have shot down the plane, accused the United States of hostile acts and threatened reprisals in case of future flights.

The U. S. reply, delivered in Moscow by the U. S. Embassy, denied "any aggressive intent" and said America's intelligence gathering is "for purely defensive purposes."

It denied too the Soviet accusation that the May 1 flight was undertaken deliberately to wreck the long-awaited summit parley.

"Indeed," the U. S. note said, "it is the Soviet government's treatment of this case which, if anything, may raise questions about its intentions in respect to these matters."

The U. S. note concluded: "For its part, the United States government will participate in the Paris meeting on May 16 prepared to cooperate to the fullest extent in seeking agreements designed to reduce tensions, including effective safeguards against surprise attack which would make unnecessary issues of this kind."

Aly Khan Fatally Injured In Paris Automobile Crash

PARIS (AP)—Prince Aly Khan—playboy, sportsman, lover of beautiful women and apprentice diplomat—was killed Thursday night at the wheel of a sports car.

After an afternoon at Longchamps race track outside Paris, the 48-year-old prince was driving to his half-brother's home at St. Cloud for a dinner party when his Lancia coupe and a light sedan collided head on in suburban Suresne.

The wealthy prince met death in a dinner jacket with a beautiful woman by his side.

Bettina, former French model who has been his constant companion in Europe in recent years, suffered a face cut and blood poured over her green silk evening gown. She was given first aid treatment at a hospital and released.

Aly's chauffeur, riding in the back seat, was only slightly hurt.

The fun-loving prince, who turned to sober diplomacy in 1958 as Pakistan's ambassador to the United Nations, was rushed to a hospital but died in an elevator on the way to the operating room.

The hospital director said a head gash was the only outward sign of injury. Hospital attaches said he suffered a fractured skull, broken legs and perhaps a broken neck.

Herve Bichaton, driver of the other car, escaped with minor injuries. Police said he told them he could remember nothing about the crash. The French News Agency said reports from the scene indicated Bichaton was on the wrong side of the road, but police gave no confirmation of this.

Bettina, whose real name is Simone Bodin, told investigators Aly—a racing driver in his youth—was not driving fast at the time of the accident.

Actress Rita Hayworth, whose marriage to Aly was a glittering Riviera affair in 1949, said in Hollywood that she and their 10-year-old daughter Yasmin were tremendously shocked.

Miss Hayworth and Aly were divorced in 1954.

Aly is survived by two sons—Karim and Ameen—by his first marriage to Joan Yarde-Buller Guinness, daughter of an English nobleman. That marriage also ended in divorce.

Karim, 23, is the reigning Aga Khan IV, spiritual leader of the Ismaili sect of Moslems with 20 million followers. He succeeded to the title in 1957 on the death of Aly's father, the Aga Khan III, who passed over his son and named his grandson as his successor.

Prince Ameen, 22, is a student at Harvard.

Red Paper Says Spy Pilot Only Jolted

LONDON (AP)—The British Communist party newspaper, the London Daily Worker said today American pilot Francis G. Powers—shot down over Soviet territory May 1—survived because the rocket exploded beneath the tail of his jet plane.

The powerful J57 jet engine of the Lockheed U2 Powers was flying thus shielded him from the full blast of the explosion, the Communist paper said in a dispatch from Moscow.

Doubts had been expressed in American official circles that the plane had been shot down by a rocket at all, most experts saying there would have been little left of the craft or the pilot of it had been.

Doubts also were expressed about the Soviet report that the plane was hit at over 60,000 feet altitude because Powers reportedly parachuted down without injury. U. S. experts, including the plane's designer, doubted the Soviets could have salvaged the films they have been showing as Powers' work had the plane falling from such high altitude.

Soviet Air Chieftain Cancels Visit to U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The chief of the Soviet air force today called off his scheduled visit to the United States.

Chief Air Marshal K. A. Vershinin, who was due to arrive Saturday from Moscow, informed the U. S. Air Force that "it would be more appropriate to postpone my visit to the United States until a more suitable time."

His decision was clearly another repercussion from the May 1 downing in the Soviet Union of an American spy plane.

Adlai Urges No Censure Of President

Americans Asked To Pray for Success Of Summit Parley

CHICAGO (AP)—Although branding the spy plane incident a blunder by the Eisenhower administration, Adlai E. Stevenson has declared that this is no time for partisan censure.

"This summit meeting is too fateful for any American to risk making the President's task even more difficult," he said Thursday night.

Stevenson, who urged Americans to pray for the success of the President's mission to Paris next week, said the downing of a U2 plane over the Soviet Union has caused "a drop in America's reputation around the world."

The temperature has fallen sharply at the summit," he declared, adding that he hoped the incident will not lead the Soviets to "really question our good faith in seeking a way to peace."

Stevenson, defeated Democratic presidential candidate in 1952 and 1956, spoke before a session of the Conference of World Tension at the University of Chicago. Delegates from over the world are meeting there to discuss ways of easing world tension.

While backing the President on the necessity for gathering intelligence—that was the mission of the plane downed May 1—Stevenson said:

"But our timing, our words, our management must and will be sharply questioned."

"In short, our government blundered and admitted it. And the blunder has made the President's task at the summit meeting more difficult. Changes must and will be made."

Referring to Premier Nikita Khrushchev's angry statements after the downing of the plane, Stevenson said, "I hope that Mr. Khrushchev's intemperate words will not discourage us from the most serious and patient negotiations."

50 Negroes Are Arrested

Chattanooga Store Is Scene of Incident

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The first mass arrests in Chattanooga, Tenn., since the near riots in February sent 50 hymn-singing young Negroes off to jail, two of them dripping wet from a hosing.

They were arrested Thursday during a demonstration in the downtown Kress store. Manager Robert V. Thacker said when they refused to leave the white lunch counter he threatened to turn a water hose on them.

All but two left, he said, and "we hosed them (the two) down real good." The others then returned and police arrested them on charges of disorderly conduct and loitering. Thirty-two juveniles were sent to a detention home. The others, jailed under $100 bond each, face a preliminary hearing in City Court.

At Nashville, Tenn., however, Negroes were served without incident at lunch counters for the third day in a row.

But Conservation Commissioner Brents McBride, whose department administers hotel and restaurant regulations, asked Atty. Gen. George McCannless if the integration of six Nashville lunch counters violated state regulations requiring segregated eating facilities. The attorney general's office declined comment pending study of the law.

The executive secretary of the South Carolina NAACP told the Negro Baptist Educational and Missionary Convention of South Carolina at Greenville that there have been 41 Negro student demonstrations for civil rights in the state and more are to come.

The NAACP official, the Rev. I. Dequincy Newman of Columbia, said demonstrations the past three months involved 4,037 students. A total of 586 have been arrested, he said, and of the number 492 already have been convicted and have appealed.

Long-Sought Forger Held in Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP)—A man sought since 1952 as a prison escapee and alleged bad check artist was taken into custody here Thursday.

City and federal authorities were to question the man, identified as James T. Patrick, 30, again today in connection with the passing of bad checks here and in several other cities.

Police said Patrick operated under several aliases and is wanted in Indianapolis and Michigan City, Ind.; Dayton and Springfield, Ohio; Little Rock, Ark.; Covington, and Louisville, Ky., and cities in Alabama and Georgia.

They said Patrick escaped from the Alabama State Prison at Kilby, Ala., in 1952 while serving two five-year terms for issuing bad checks.

Frenzied Cubans Shout 'Get Out!' to America

Latin Tension Is on Increase

U.S. Claimed Planning 'Direct Aggression'

HAVANA (AP)—Shouts of "Get out! Get out!" greeted every mention of U. S. Ambassador Philip Bonsal at a hysterical five-hour anti-American rally at Havana University that carried into the early hours today.

More than 15,000 students, workers and civilian militiamen were whipped into a frenzy by student and union leaders ranting against "Yankee imperialism" and charging repeatedly that the United States is preparing an invasion of Cuba.

Havana seethed with anti-Americanism.

Maj. Rolando Cubela, head of the University Student Federation, called the rally to muster support for his charge that the United States plans "direct aggression" against the island republic.

He again cited as proof signs the U. S. Embassy has prepared for posting on U. S.-owned buildings in the event of trouble. The embassy has explained that the notices are routine preparedness carried out by U. S. embassies all over the world.

Another student leader, Maj. Angel Quevedo, roused the throng of students, militiamen and workers to cheers with the assertion:

"If the embassy denies that the (U. S.) government is criminally preparing to wage war in our country, then they will have to tell us what other puppet and subjected governments of Latin America that they are thinking of using to make war."

The anti-American temper was fanned by the killing of an American civilian pilot, Matthew Edward Duke, 45, earlier in the day outside Havana. Officials said he was trying to fly out Cubans branded by the Castro regime as war criminals. The government said he landed on the highway, saw an ambush was waiting for him, and was shot as he tried to take off again.

Duke was on the U. S. border patrol's blacklist of 29 pilots suspected of illegal flights to Cuba, and U. S. airports had been warned not to rent any of them a plane. Federal aviation officials said he rented a plane at Baton Rouge, La., by saying he was flying to Texas for a cargo of spare airplane parts.

Extra details of Cuban police stood guard outside the glass-walled U. S. embassy, about a mile from the university demonstration. The demonstrators made no attempt to attack the embassy, however.

Cop-Slayer Is Caught in Escape Plot

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The slayer of an Akron policeman arranged a $500 payment to a fellow prisoner who promised to get him out of Summit County Jail, but detectives moved in on the plotting Thursday night, Capt. Carroll Cutright of Akron's detective squad said.

Cutright said Wilbert Wood, 23, of Akron, held on three counts of armed robbery, had talked James R. Buck, 22, into arranging the $500 payment. Buck is charged with slaying Akron policeman Floyd Weatherholt last March.

Buck's mother in Nashville, Tenn., sent her son's wife, Shirley, 20, the money in compliance with a letter request from Buck, Cutright said. The prisoner's wife was to deliver it to Wood's wife, Myra, 21. Instead Mrs. Buck went to police.

Detectives were on hand Thursday night when the $500 was delivered by Mrs. Buck to Mrs. Wood near a downtown theater, and Mrs. Wood was arrested and will be charged with larceny by trick, Cutright said.

Police said Wood had no intention of helping Buck escape from jail but wanted the money to hire a lawyer for himself.

No Echo Received

'Made in Circleville' Mylar Balloon Lost in Space Shot

A huge satellite balloon with a "Made in Circleville" tag apparently failed to go into orbit today after launching at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

The United States tried to put a DuPont Mylar balloon into orbit around the Earth to be used as a reflector for long-range radio waves.

The experiment, called Project Echo, will be tried again later this year. Its ultimate aim is a procession of 100-foot aluminum-coated Mylar spheres circling the planet as dependable backboards for worldwide communication signals.

Today's balloon, collapsed inside a 26½-inch magnesium ball, got off to an apparently good start at 4:16 a.m. from this missile test station on the nose of a towering Thor-Delta rocket. The aim was to eject the balloon and inflate it at orbit level.

Ground observers saw the second stage rocket take over in the sky some three minutes later but contact was soon lost.

Scientists at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in Washington said there was a slim chance the payload had gone into an orbit different from the planned path.

The effort was aimed to put into a 1,000-mile-high orbit a balloon as high as a 10-story building. The great sphere was to be inflated after reaching orbit altitude.

Solons Chide String Savers In Pentagon

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee today told the Defense Department to reappraise its construction program in the light of the space age and to get rid of "string savers" and "empire builders."

Its criticism of department construction plans was contained in a report approving $885,168,000 in new funds for military construction projects in the United States and overseas. This is $302,832,000 less than President Eisenhower requested.

"All too frequently," the committee said, "the services find themselves in the position of building facilities which at best are only partly utilized or constructed in support of so-called weapons of the future which never materialize into operational equipment."

The committee also fussed at the department for its family housing program and said it should give greater consideration to the availability of private housing and other government housing programs.

It called for action "to eliminate the 'string savers' and 'empire builders' who insist on holding each piece of property whether or not there is a valid requirement and blithely request new facilities with little or no consideration given to those available in their own or other military services."

The NASA said the first stage burned correctly and the second stage also performed very well, but trouble set in after the second stage burned out.

During a long coasting period at that stage the position of the rocket was to be controlled by small jets. About half way through the coasting period reports showed these control jets failed to operate.

NASA estimated the cost of the device, including rocket and payload, at between four and five million dollars.

Had the Mylar balloon gone into proper orbit, it would have passed over Circleville, headed from northwest to southeast, about 3:45 a.m. tomorrow morning.

The huge satellite would shine with the brightness of the brightest stars and would be visible to the naked eye.

The balloon is constructed of Mylar, made here. It was used because of its strength—one-third that of mild steel—light weight and flexibility.

The film used is a half-thousandth of an inch thick. It is covered with aluminum by a vacuum metallizing process by the Standard Packaging Corp., Trenton, N. J. The sphere itself was made by the G. T. Schjeldahl Co., Northfield, Mass.

U.S. Spy-Pilot 'Sold Out' On Ill-Fated Soviet Flight

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Daily News said in a copyright story today that American pilot Francis G. Powers was "sold out" and that a manhunt has been launched for the agent who did it.

The News said Powers was a sitting duck from the time he left his home base in Turkey and that Soviet radar tracked him all the way.

The article, a Washington dispatch by the newspaper's military editor, Jerry Greene, said that Powers had an engine flameout above 70,000 feet and descended to 37,000 feet in an effort to restart the engine.

But Powers was unable to restart it and was instructed by radio to bail out and blow up the aircraft. Obviously, said the News, these orders either were not received or were disregarded.

Powers was downed May 1 while flying a reconnaissance flight in a U2 jet plane over Soviet territory. The incident has caused an international furor.

"Somebody sold him out," the News quoted a top official in Washington. "And we want him. Obviously, the Soviet agents have penetrated our operations on the ground." The manhunt is going on in Turkey and the Middle East, said the News.

Powers, the article continued, was on the Peshawar, Pakistan-Norway route, which has been flown so often it is called a milk run in aviation circles.

The News said the chief target was the comparatively new Soviet rocket and missile center at Tyura Tam, south of Arlsk near the Ural Sea.

U. S. intelligence agencies have received reports that the Soviets were going to make a surprise space shot either in connection with next week's summit meeting in Paris or with President Eisenhower's trip, the story said.

"The flight on which Powers was captured was intended specifically to determine what sort of spectacular the Russians had in mind," the article said.

Jet Airliner Passengers Jolted by Turbulent Air

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A Delta Air Lines DC8B jet struck turbulent air that shook up the 55 persons aboard and injured two of them seriously enough to require hospitalization.

Two stewardesses, two children and nine other persons were flung from their seats to the floor and ceiling Thursday.

William Lanuti of Miami and Theresa Novacek of Hollywood, Fla., were hospitalized. The others were treated at Jackson Memorial Hospital and released.

Lanuti had fractures of both wrists, scalp lacerations and possible head and chest injuries. Mrs. Novacek, 79, had multiple sprains and contusions.

Stewardess Betty Joe Morris of Coral Gables, Fla., was flung to the floor and several passengers in the tourist compartment were thrown from their seats.

"I made a hole this big in the ceiling," said Kurt Strauss of Coatesville, Pa., holding his outstretched arms about three feet apart.

"I had my seat belt on and the cable holding it to the floor broke," he said.

Strauss was treated for severe head and face lacerations. The two children, Ronnie Albert, 12 and his sister, Medgie, 6, were treated for bruises.

Capt. Reed Knight of Fort Lauderdale, pilot of the nonstop Chicago-to-Miami flight, said the plane dropped to 10,000 feet preparatory to landing when it hit the rough weather. He said the skies were clear with only a few fleecy clouds at that elevation.

"There was no warning of any turbulence," he added. "There was one bump; no more and no less."

Hospitals Run Water Bill Up To $425,160

CLEVELAND (AP)—What happens when a customer runs up a water bill of $425,160 over a six-year period?

The bill must be paid or the water is turned off—even if the water goes to two hospitals—according to Stephen Suhajcik, Cleveland fiscal officer in charge of collecting water bills.

Suhajcik says the big bill is for water to two Cuyahoga County hospitals—Sunny Acres Sanitarium and Highland View Hospital.

"The county is going to come across or else," said Suhajcik Thursday. "What am I supposed to do? I'm being pushed by the state auditor to collect all water bills and have been threatened with a taxpayer's suit and canceling of my bond."

Lawrence W. Murtagh, county administrator, countered that the bill would be paid "as soon as the city pays its own debts."

He referred to money owned the county for services resulting from the transfer of City Hospital to the county.

Suhajcik didn't say when the water would be turned off.

Freak Mishap Kills Man; Son Is Saved

LIBERTY, Mo. (AP)—Oliver Lewis Jr., 29, of Kansas City, and his wife, Rena Mae, were fishing in a lake Thursday when their parked car started rolling down the bank. Inside was 2-year-old Oliver Lewis III.

Lewis and his wife both grabbed the rear bumper of the car and tried to stop it. But the car dropped them into the lake. Mrs. Lewis stumbled back ashore. Her husband disappeared beneath the water.

His body was found pinned to the lake bottom by his car.

His son floated out a window and was rescued by another fisherman.

'Made in Circleville' Mylar Balloon Lost in Space Shot

A huge satellite balloon with a "Made in Circleville" tag apparently failed to go into orbit today after launching at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

The United States tried to put a DuPont Mylar balloon into orbit around the Earth to be used as a reflector for long - range radio waves.

The experiment, called Project Echo, will be tried again later this year. Its ultimate aim is a procession of 100-foot aluminum-coated Mylar spheres circling the planet as dependable backboards for worldwide communication signals.

Today's balloon, collapsed inside a 26½-inch magnesium ball, got off to an apparently good start at 4:16 a. m. from this missile test station on the nose of a towering Thor-Delta rocket. The aim was to eject the balloon and inflate it at orbit level.

Ground observers saw the second stage rocket take over in the sky some three minutes later but contact was soon lost.

Scientists at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in Washington said there was a slim chance the payload had gone into an orbit different from the planned path.

The effort was aimed to put into a 1,000-mile-high orbit a balloon as high as a 10-story building. The great sphere was to be inflated after reaching orbit altitude.

The NASA said the first stage burned correctly and the second stage also performed very well, but trouble set in after the second stage burned out.

During a long coasting period at that stage the position of the rocket was to be controlled by small jets. About half way through the coasting period reports showed these control jets failed to operate.

NASA estimated the cost of the device, including rocket and payload, at between four and five million dollars.

Had the Mylar balloon gone into proper orbit, it would have passed over Circleville, headed from northwest to southeast, about 3:45 a. m. tomorrow morning.

The huge satellite would shine with the brightness of the brightest stars and would be visible to the naked eye.

The balloon is constructed of Mylar, made here. It was used because of its strength—one third that of mild steel—light weight and flexibility.

The film used is a half - thousandth of an inch thick. It is covered with aluminum by a vacuum metallizing process by the Standard Packaging Corp., Trenton, N. J. The sphere itself was made by the G. T. Schjeldahl Co., Northfield, Mass.

U.S. Spy-Pilot 'Sold Out' On Ill-Fated Soviet Flight

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Daily News said in a copy-right story today that American pilot Francis G. Powers was "sold out" and that a manhunt has been launched for the agent who did it.

The News said Powers was a sitting duck from the time he left his home base in Turkey and that Soviet radar tracked him all the way.

The article, a Washington dispatch by the newspaper's military editor, Jerry Greene, said that Powers had an engine flameout above 70,000 feet and descended to 37,000 feet in an effort to restart the engine.

But Powers was unable to restart it and was instructed by radio to bail out and blow up the aircraft. Obviously, said the News, these orders either were not received or were disregarded.

Powers was downed May 1 while flying a reconnaissance flight in a U2 jet plane over Soviet territory. The incident has caused an international furor.

"Somebody sold him out," the News quoted a top official in Washington. "And we want him. Obviously, the Soviet agents have penetrated our operations on the ground." The manhunt is going on in Turkey and the Middle East, said the News.

Powers, the article continued, was on the Peshawar, Pakistan-Norway route, which has been flown so often it is called a milk run in aviation circles.

The News said the chief target was the comparatively new Soviet rocket and missile center at Tyura Tam, south of Arsk near the Ural Sea.

U. S. intelligence agencies have received reports that the Soviets were going to make a surprise space shot either in connection with next week's summit meeting in Paris or with President Eisenhower's trip, the story said.

"The flight on which Powers was captured was intended specifically to determine what sort of spectacular the Russians had in mind," the article said.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee today reapproved its construction program in the light of the space age and to get rid of "string savers" and "empire builders."

Its criticism of department construction plans was contained in a report approving $885,168,000 in new funds for military construction projects in the United States and overseas. This is $302,832,000 less than President Eisenhower requested.

"All too frequently," the committee said, "the services find themselves in the position of building facilities which at best are only partly utilized or constructing bases in support of so-called weapons of the future which never materialize into operational equipment."

The committee also fussed at the department for its family housing program and said it should give greater consideration to the availability of private housing and other government housing programs.

It called for action "to eliminate the 'string savers' and 'empire builders' who insist on holding each piece of property whether or not there is a valid requirement and blithely request new facilities with little or no consideration given to those available in their own or other military services."

Jet Airliner Passengers Jolted by Turbulent Air

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A Delta Air Lines DC8B jet struck turbulent air that shook up the 55 persons aboard and injured two of them seriously enough to require hospitalization.

Two stewardesses, two children and nine other persons were flung from their seats to the floor and ceiling Thursday.

William Lanutti of Miami and Theresa Novacek of Hollywood, Fla., were hospitalized. The others were treated at Jackson Memorial Hospital and released.

Lanutti had fractures of both wrists, scalp lacerations and possible head and chest injuries. Mrs. Novacek, 79, had multiple sprains and contusions.

Stewardess Betty Joe Morris of Coral Gables, Fla., was flung to the floor and several passengers in the tourist compartment were thrown from their seats.

"I made a hole this big in the ceiling," said Kurt Strauss of Coatesville, Pa., holding his outstretched arms about three feet apart.

"I had my seat belt on and I cable holding it to the floor broke," he said.

Strauss was treated for severe head and face lacerations. The two children, Ronnie Albert, 12 and his sister, Medgie, 6, were treated for bruises.

Capt. Reed Knight of Fort Lauderdale, pilot of the nonstop Chicago-to-Miami flight, said the plane dropped to 10,000 feet preparatory to landing when it hit the rough weather. He said the skies were clear with only a few fleecy clouds at that elevation.

"There was no warning of any turbulence," he added. "There was one bump; no more and no less."

Latin Tension Is on Increase

U.S. Claimed Planning 'Direct Aggression'

HAVANA (AP)—Shouts of "Get out! Get out!" greeted every mention of U. S. Ambassador Philip Bonsai at a hysterical five-hour anti-American rally at Havana University that carried into the early hours today.

More than 15,000 students, workers and civilian militiamen were whipped into a frenzy by student and union leaders ranting against "Yankee imperialism" and charging repeatedly that the United States is preparing an invasion of Cuba.

Havana seethed with anti-Americanism.

Maj. Rolando Cubela, head of the University Student Federation, called the rally to muster support for his charge that the United States plans "direct aggression" against the island republic.

He again cited as proof signs the U. S. Embassy has prepared for posting on U. S.-owned buildings in the event of trouble. The embassy has explained that the notices are routine preparedness carried out by U. S. embassies all over the world.

Another student leader, Maj. Angel Quevedo, roused the throng of students, militiamen and workers to cheers with the assertion: "If the embassy denies that the (U. S.) government is criminally preparing to wage war in our country, then they will have to tell us what other puppet and subjected governments of Latin America that they are thinking of using to make war."

The anti-American tempers were fanned by the killing of an American civilian pilot, Matthews Edward Duke, 45, earlier in the day outside Havana. Officials said he was trying to fly out Cubans branded by the Castro regime as war criminals. The government said he landed on the highway, saw an ambush was waiting for him, and was shot as he tried to take off again.

Duke was on the U. S. border patrol's blacklist of 29 pilots suspected of illegal flights to Cuba, and U. S. airports had been warned not to rent any of them a plane. Federal aviation officials said he rented a plane at Baton Rouge, La., by saying he was flying to Texas for a cargo of spare airplane parts.

Extra details of Cuban police stood guard outside the glass-walled U. S. embassy, about a mile from the university demonstration. The demonstrators made no attempt to attack the embassy, however.

Cop-Slayer Is Caught in Escape Plot

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The slayer of an Akron policeman arranged a $500 payment to a fellow prisoner who promised to get him out of Summit County Jail, but detectives moved in on the plotting Thursday night, Capt. Carroll Cutright of Akron's detective squad said.

Cutright said Wilbert Wood, 23, of Akron, held on three counts of armed robbery, had talked James R. Buck, 22, into arranging the $500 payment. Buck is charged with slaying Akron policeman Floyd Weatherholt last March.

Buck's mother in Nashville, Tenn., sent her son's wife, Shirley, 20, the money in compliance with a letter request from Buck, Cutright said. The prisoner's wife was to deliver it to Wood's wife, Myra, 21. Instead Mrs. Buck went to police.

Detectives were on hand Thursday night when the $500 was delivered by Mrs. Buck to Mrs. Wood near a downtown theater, and Mrs. Wood was arrested and will be charged with larceny by trick, Cutright said.

Police said Wood had no intention of helping Buck escape from jail but wanted the money to hire a lawyer for himself.

Sesquicentennial . . A Look at the Past

Jackson and Muhlenberg Twp. have taken the lead in area celebrations of the Pickaway County Sesquicentennial. Last Friday, students, staff, parents and neighbors united in an evening of fun and history at the Westfall - Jackson school. Literally hundreds of individuals had a part.

The history and English classes did research and wrote sketches which were presented about the pioneers of the area, the early district schools and the early churches.

Girls in the Home Economics department presented a fashion show of over 35 models through the years, including bridal and trousseau gowns from the 1800's.

The Vocational Agriculture class built the background stage setting of an old colonial kitchen with fireplace, which was furnished with antiques from area homes. These included copper kettles, andirons, old spider skillets, butter churn and coffee grinder.

An 8th grade History class constructed tiny scale models of Darbyville and Fox as they were 100 years ago.

Thirty students from the 1st through 7th grades took part in a skit of the old district school reciting lessons from the McGuffey readers and early geography books.

YOUNG, costumed couples from the 4th, 5th and 7th grades danced a colonial minuet. Mothers of the dancers had made the costumes complete with wigs improvised from cotton and stocking caps.

Pictures, antique furniture including a trundle bed and hand-made chairs, albums, china, glassware, Indian relics, an old portable metal bath tub and other memorabilia from days gone by were displayed throughout the auditorium.

Although we generally picture earlier generations as being physically much smaller than our present day well-fed, vitamin-packed individuals, the 64 model, Paul Hoskins, couldn't fill out the costume which Felix Renick had worn in 1851 when he was a member of the State Legislature. So evidently, some of our local ancestors were imposing figures even by modern standards.

The hard-working committee which organized the many facets of the celebration included Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Stevenson, Miss Dehl Renick, Mrs. Marvane Rhoades, Miss Mary Shortridge and Mrs. Milton Renick.

Further details of this wonderful community evening are being reported elsewhere in the paper by the Jackson Journalism class under the guidance of Mrs. Sally Anderson.

When Fortescue Cuming stopped at Lybrand's Tavern in Turlington in 1807 for a breakfast of "good coffee, roast fowls, chicken pie, potatoes, bread and butter and cucumbers both sliced and pickled", it took nearly an hour to reach the next tavern at Leislerville.

Prairie Lanes Construction Starts Today

Ground breaking ceremonies for the new Prairie Lanes bowling alleys were held today.

Kenneth DeLong, president of Circleville Bowling Lanes, Inc. doing business as Prairie Lanes, was on hand as C. F. Replege Co., 122 1/2 N. Court St., started excavating for the new 16-lane modern bowling alley.

Site of the block structure is on a three-acre plot north of Circleville on old U. S. Route 23, next to Circleville Motors, Inc., Route 3.

General contractor for the building is Agan & Associates, Chillicothe. The bowling alley is to be finished by September 1. It will contain 16,000 square feet.

INCLUDED in the modern bowling alley will be a cocktail lounge, snack bar and nursery. A 200-car blacktopped parking lot will be lighted by vapor light to be installed by the Ohio Midland Co.

A 3,000-gallon septic tank will handle all refuse. Brunswick alleys and equipment will be used. They will be owned and operated by Circleville Bowling Lanes. Under-ground returns will be featured along with the completely automatic setup.

There will be two 40-foot entrances into the area off old Route 23. The gas heated and air conditioned recreation establishment is estimated to cost $500,000.

Approximately 19,000 to 20,000 cement blocks will be used in the building along with nearly 350 yards of concrete.

Other officers of Circleville Bowling Lanes, Inc. are Robert Hess, vice president; Donald Ringwald, secretary; and Walter H. Highland Jr., treasurer and accountant.

Sesquicentennial . . A Look at the Past

Jackson and Mühlenberg Twp. have taken the lead in area celebrations of the Pickaway County Sesquicentennial. Last Friday, students, staff, parents and neighbors united in an evening of fun and history at the Westfall - Jackson school. Literally hundreds of individuals had a part.

The history and English classes did research and wrote sketches which were presented about the pioneers of the area, the early district schools and the early churches.

Girls in the Home Economics department presented a fashion show of over 35 models through the years, including bridal and trousseau gowns from the 1800's.

The Vocational Agriculture class built the background stage setting of an old colonial kitchen with fireplace, which was furnished with antiques from area homes. These included copper kettles, butter churn and coffee grinder.

An 8th grade History class constructed tiny scale models of Darbyville and Fox as they were 100 years ago.

Thirty students from the 1st through 7th grades took part in a skit of the old district school reciting lessons from the McGuffey readers and early geography books.

YOUNG, costumed couples from the 4th, 5th and 7th grades danced a colonial minuet. Mothers of the dancers had made the costumes complete with wigs improvised from cotton and stocking caps.

Pictures, antique furniture including a trundle bed and hand-made chairs, albums, china, glassware, Indian relics, an old portable metal bath tub and other memorabilia from days gone by were displayed throughout the auditorium.

Although we generally picture earlier generations as being physically much smaller than our present day well-fed, vitamin-packed individuals, the 6-4 model, Paul Hoskins, couldn't fill out the costume which Felix Renick had worn in 1851 when he was a member of the State Legislature. So evidently, some of our local ancestors were imposing figures even by modern standards.

The hard-working committee which organized the many facets of the celebration included Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Stevenson, Miss Dehl Renick, Mrs. Marvane Rhoades, Miss Mary Shortridge and Mrs. Milton Renick.

Further details of this wonderful community evening are being reported elsewhere in the paper by the Jackson Journalism class under the guidance of Mrs. Sally Anderson.

When Fortescue Cuming stopped at Lybrand's Tavern in Tarenton in 1807 for a breakfast of "good coffee, roast fowls, chicken pie, potatoes, bread and butter and cucumbers both sliced and pickled", it took nearly an hour to reach the next tavern at Leislerville.

Visitors on a historical tour of southeastern Pickaway County will traverse this part of Zane's Trace in a few minutes by bus, then visit Pickaway County's oldest public cemetery at Stump Church; Camp Charlotte the scene of Lord Dunmore's encampment; Logan Elm; historic Cross Mound and many other points of interest in Pickaway and Saltcreek Townships.

Sesquicentennial committees in these two townships are busy preparing a tour itinerary. It will be given a trial run on May 20. A group of seventh graders from Pickaway School will be taken on the tour by their home room teacher, Mrs. J. L. Chilcote assisted by Lawrence McKenzie, Mrs. George Macklin and Mrs. Sterling Poling.

Robert Boyle, an early authority on vacuum (an empty space), invented the first successful air pump about 1660.

Prairie Lanes Construction Starts Today

Ground breaking ceremonies for the new Prairie Lanes bowling alleys were held today.

Kenneth DeLong, president of Circleville Bowling Lanes, Inc. doing business as Prairie Lanes, was on hand as C. F. Replogle Co., 122 1/2 N. Court St., started excavating for the new 16-lane modern bowling alley.

Site of the block structure is on a three-acre plot north of Circleville on old U. S. Route 23, next to Circleville Motors, Inc., Route 3.

General contractor for the building is Agan & Associates, Chillicothe. The bowling alley is to be finished by September 1. It will contain 16,000 square feet.

INCLUDED in the modern bowling alley will be a cocktail lounge, snack bar and nursery. A 200-car blacktopped parking lot will be lighted by vapor light to be installed by the Ohio Midland Co.

A 3,000-gallon septic tank will handle all refuse. Brunswick alleys and equipment will be used. They will be owned and operated by Circleville Bowling Lanes. Underground returns will be featured along with the completely automatic setup.

There will be two 40-foot entrances into the area off Route 23. The gas heated and air conditioned recreation establishment is estimated to cost $500,000.

Approximately 19,000 to 20,000 cement blocks will be used in the building along with nearly 350 yards of concrete.

Other officers of Circleville Bowling Lanes, Inc. are Robert Hess, vice president; Donald Ringwald, secretary; and Walter H. Highland Jr., treasurer and accountant.

Ike Aide Pleads For Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Under Secretary of State C. Douglas Dillon goes before the Senate Appropriations Committee today to ask that no cuts be made in foreign aid money.

President Eisenhower has said any such reductions would produce "calamitous results".

Dillon's scheduled testimony follows congressional passage Thursday of an authorization bill setting ceilings for overseas spending at $4,086,300,000, just $88,700,000 less than Eisenhower asked.

But the appropriation measure, which provides the actual money, is the object of proposals by opponents to cut the program by as much as $1 1/2 billion dollars.

Small Motor Missing

William Hoop, York St., told police today that a small motor was taken from his home. He said the unit was pilfered while he was in the process of moving from York St. to Clinton St.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official
Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Fair weather edged up to the west border of Ohio but cloudiness continued over the Buckeye State all night. Light rain and drizzle became rather general by morning.

Overnight low temperatures ranged from 38 at Akron to 43 at Cincinnati, so no frost occurred.
Rainfall amounts were mostly traces, but Dayton and Cincinnati reported a few hundredths of an inch.

The forecasts are still optimistic about the weekend weather, calling for fair and warmer. By Sunday afternoon, temperatures in the 70s are expected.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECAST
Temperatures will average near normal. Normal high 69 north to 72 south, normal low 47-51. A slow warming trend through Monday, turning cooler Tuesday or Wednesday. Precipitation will average near one-half inch in showers about Tuesday.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Fair weather edged up to the west border of Ohio but cloudiness continued over the Buckeye State all night. Light rain and drizzle became rather general by morning.

Overnight low temperatures ranged from 38 at Akron to 43 at Cincinnati, so no frost occurred. Rainfall amounts were mostly traces, but Dayton and Cincinnati reported a few hundredths of an inch.

The forecasts are still optimistic about the weekend weather, calling for fair and warmer. By Sunday afternoon, temperatures in the 70s are expected.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECAST
Temperatures will average near normal. Normal high 69 north to 72 south, normal low 47-51. A slow warming trend through Monday, turning cooler Tuesday or Wednesday. Precipitation will average near one-half inch in showers about Tuesday.

Good Teaching Award Goes to OSU Professor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Dr. Jack G. Calvert, associate professor of chemistry at Ohio State University, was presented the annual Good Teaching Award of the University's Arts College Student Council Thursday night. The award is made to a member of the college faculty, who, in the council's judgment, "is particularly worthy of special recognition by virtue of the excellence of his undergraduate teaching."

Oceans Open New Avenues

In the opinion of one of America's distinguished scientists, the U. S. is wasting time and resources on the speedy conquest of space — at least as concerns military objectives. It should concentrate on ocean warfare, he says.

Dr. Harrison Brown, chairman of the National Academy of Science's Oceanography Committee, testified at a hearing of the House Science and Astronautics Committee that difficulty of detection and mobility are two of the greatest defensive assets in modern warfare, and the ocean is the only place where both conditions are abundantly available.

Very little is known about the oceans, despite man's dependence upon them for centuries, and it may be that more knowledge of outer space and the worlds which lie beyond ours will soon be accumulated than is available on the oceans. As a practical matter of survival, it may be wished emphasis had been on this planet, instead of outer space, if the Russians are successful in their efforts to develop the greatest missile-carrying submarine fleet.

This was the substance of Dr. Brown's remarks to the congressional committee, in which he expressed the reassuring opinion that with the success of the U. S. Polaris - equipped, nuclear - powered submarines, the Pentagon was turning unprecedented attention to the advantages of the sea. Space ships may be more dramatic, but at the moment underwater warfare may be more deadly.

Submarine travel now enters phase two and once again it is the demands of military preparedness which blaze the trail. Unlike the World War II activity, which produced nothing of civilian adaptation, present undersea craft are using principles easily adaptable to civilian transport.

Travelers of the future may enjoy a new avenue of land, sea and air.

Remarks To Irk a Cab Driver

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that raise the hackles on a hack:

"Say something funny."

"I hear that all cab drivers are either cards or characters. Which are you?"

The car ahead of you beat that red light. Why didn't you?"

"I'm the one who pays the bill, so you'll go the way I tell you."

"A dollar ten, a dollar fifteen, a dollar twenty—and here's a nickel for yourself, young man."

"What're you buying with your tips these days—apartment houses?"

"Why don't you just strap a gun on that meter? It would make everything simpler."

"I don't have to take any lip from you. Just drive to the nearest police station, and we'll let the sergeant settle the matter."

"All right, Mac, let's see your license. You know you can't make a U-turn on this street."

"Is that the fastest you can go?"

"Can't you go a little slower?"

"I made this same trip two weeks ago in another cab, and the fare was a dime cheaper. I'd like to know how you explain that."

"Oh, silly me. I forgot my purse again. Just give me your name and address—and I'll mail you what I owe you."

"If you'd followed the route I suggested, we wouldn't be in this traffic jam."

"Where do taxicabs go when it rains? You can never find one."

"Never mind the speed limit. If we catch that airplane, there's an extra quarter in it for you."

"Here's a buck. My friend has had a little too much to drink. Just drive him around until he wakes up."

"I always like to give you guys a good tip, and the best tip I can give you today is—don't bet on horses."

"I don't think it's fair for that meter to go on ticking while we're just standing here waiting for the traffic light to change."

"Young man, if you'll just help me up the stairs with that trunk and four suitcases, I'm sure my daughter will fix you a nice cool glass of lemonade."

"Do you mind stopping at the drug store while I get some aspirin? Then stop at the supermarket while I run in and get a can of chili, and then stop at the —"

Hitlerism Still Lives

By George Sokolsky

Some time ago, I received a letter from E. Mullins of the Policy Committee of the Institute for Biopolitics of Chicago questioning me as to the truth of the report the aforesaid Mullins had received from H. L. Hunt, the oil tycoon, that Lenin, Trotsky and I made the Russian Revolution. Amused, I replied that it must have been another feller.

Subsequently I heard that some Chicago private eyes, formerly FBI agents, were searching through files of my voluminous writing. Their apparent object was to discover whether I was or was not Zinoviev or Kamenev, or maybe Madame Kollontai or perhaps even Elsa Maxwell.

The conspiracy deepens!

Behold! I am told that a Chicago millionaire, who I assumed is a friend of mine, is financing the Institute for Biopolitics, which made me a bit miserable, for the name mentioned is that of a good American. Let us pull a veil over it all!

Then I received a letter from the Institute for Biopolitics saying: "Your support is needed today!" The document is addressed to "The Whitemen of America." The subject of the letter is "Parasitism." The first paragraph of this letter reads:

"The philosophy of the group led by Jews, which now holds power in the United States and in the other 'people's democracies' is that of humanism. This doctrine holds that since all human beings are equal, any human being who works harder and earns more shall have a percentage of his earnings taken from him and donated to those who work less or not at all. As any biologist knows, the human beings who subsist on the efforts of others are parasites. . . . the philosophy of humanism is the philosophy of parasitism."

The House Committee on Un-American Activities in 1954 issued a report on "Neo-Fascist and Hate Groups." Among those mentioned was the National Renaissance Party and the report notes that Eustace Mullins, my Chicago pen pal, wrote an article for the NRP Bulletin, entitled, "Adolf Hitler: An Appreciation." He is also noted to be a staff writer for "Common Sense," a particularly vicious anti-Semitic publication. In his article on Hitler, Mullins wrote on October 1952:

"Eventually America must admit her debt to Adolf Hitler for it was Hitler who first called up on all Aryan people to unite and challenge (sic) Jewish economic and political power. It was Hitler who first enunciated the doctrine of national self-determination and led the armies of Christian Europe in a great crusade against the godless Jews of the Kremlin. Hitler, like Christ before him, was crucified on a Cross of Gold through the duplicity of his own Christian people."

Mullins is associated with Maynard O. Nelsen who heads the "Realpolitical Institute," which gives the same P. O. Box in Chicago. From the record that I have gathered, Mullins is a very active and aggressive person. He seems to be obsessed with word "whiteman" and his Institute has published "Pax Americana, the Elite Whiteman's Guidebook." Mullins' associate, Maynard O. Nelsen, started his Neo-Naziism while still at the University of Minnesota where he paraded in a Nazi uniform and distributed Nazi literature. The police went after him and he had lots of trouble. In 1954, he founded the "Realpolitical Institute," which has, to repeat, the same P. O. address as the "Institute for Biopolitics." Nelsen is not only anti-Semitic but he is anti-Christian, he regarding Christianity as a Jewish subversive movement.

Another organization owned by these two men is called "M & N Associates." This firm engages in "Political Engineering." Here

Eustace Mullins signs himself "State Chairman of the Constitution Party of Illinois." In an article written by Mullins in this guise, he says that "J. Edgar Hoover's recent book, 'Masters of Deceit,' was largely written for him in the ADL offices in New York, for favors received." A. D. L. refers to the Anti-Defamation League.

I have much more material on Mullins and Nelsen but this suffices to show what the Institute for Biopolitics is. We thought that Hitler was dead but it is apparently possible to make a living of his ghost. The Neo-Fascists and the Communists ought to get together to pool their resources in their mutual effort to damage the United States.

It is often suggested that these small efforts be ignored. Nothing can be ignored in these perilous times when our country suffers subversive groups.

New Miami Hotel Is Ordered Closed

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The 178-room Lucerne Hotel, which cost four million dollars when it was built in 1956, has been ordered to close next Sunday because it's losing money.

U.S. Dist. Judge Emmett Choate acted Wednesday after a court trustee reported the hotel had only 60 rooms occupied and was losing $300 to $400 a day.

Others among Miami Beach's 378 hotels reportedly are facing financial difficulties. Already undergoing corporate reorganization under federal court direction are the Delmonico, Cadillac, Sorrento and Saxony. Foreclosure suits have been filed in circuit court against the Plymouth and Lombardy.

How To Cure Insomnia

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

One of the most universal complaints of modern man — and woman, too — is the familiar "I just can't get to sleep."

Insomnia is not a disease, although, of course, some cases might be related to a specific disease.

Far more often, though, the trouble can be traced to one or more of three things: food, too much or too little of it; worry, and inability to relax.

Let me give you a few tips which may help you get to sleep more quickly.

First, let's take the matter of food.

Oceans Open New Avenues

In the opinion of one of America's distinguished scientists, the U. S. is wasting time and resources on the speedy conquest of space — at least as concerns military objectives. It should concentrate on ocean warfare, he says.

Dr. Harrison Brown, chairman of the National Academy of Science's Oceanography Committee, testified at a hearing of the House Science and Astronautics Committee that difficulty of detection and mobility are two of the greatest defensive assets in modern warfare, and the ocean is the only place where both conditions are abundantly available.

Very little is known about the oceans, despite man's dependence upon them for centuries, and it may be that more knowledge of outer space and the worlds which lie beyond ours will soon be accumulated than is available on the oceans. As a practical matter of survival, it may be wished emphasis had been on this planet, instead of outer space, if the Russians are successful in their efforts to develop the greatest missile-carrying submarine fleet.

This was the substance of Dr. Brown's remarks to the congressional committee, in which he expressed the reassuring opinion that with the success of the U. S. Polaris - equipped, nuclear - powered submarines, the Pentagon was turning unprecedented attention to the advantages of the sea. Space ships may be more dramatic, but at the moment underwater warfare may be more deadly.

Submarine travel now enters phase two and once again it is the demands of military preparedness which blaze the trail. Unlike the World War II activity, which produced nothing of civilian adaptation, present undersea craft are using principles easily adaptable to civilian transport.

Travelers of the future may enjoy a new avenue of land, sea and air.

Remarks To Irk a Cab Driver

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that raise the hackles on a hack:

"Say something funny."

"I hear that all cab drivers are either cards or characters. Which are you?"

The car ahead of you beat that red light. Why didn't you?"

"I'm the one who pays the bill, so you'll go the way I tell you."

"A dollar ten, a dollar fifteen, a dollar twenty—and here's a nickel for yourself, young man."

"What're you buying with your tips these days—apartment houses?"

"Why don't you just strap a gun on that meter? It would make everything simpler."

"I don't have to take any lip from you. Just drive to the nearest police station, and we'll let the sergeant settle the matter."

"All right, Mac, let's see your license. You know you can't make a U-turn on this street."

"Is that the fastest you can go?"

"Can't you go a little slower?"

"I made this same trip two weeks ago in another cab, and the fare was a dime cheaper. I'd like to know how you explain that."

"Oh, silly me. I forgot my purse again. Just give me your name and address—and I'll mail you what I owe you."

"If you'd followed the route I suggested, we wouldn't be in this traffic jam."

"Where do taxicabs go when it rains? You can never find one."

"Never mind the speed limit. If we catch that airplane, there's an extra quarter in it for you."

"Here's a buck. My friend has had a little too much to drink. Just drive him around until he wakes up."

"I always like to give you guys a good tip, and the best tip I can give you today is—don't bet on horses."

"I don't think it's fair for that meter to go on ticking while we're just standing here waiting for the traffic light to change."

"Young man, if you'll just help me to get on with that trunk and four suitcases, I'm sure my daughter will fix you a nice cool glass of lemonade."

"Do you mind stopping at that meter to go on ticking while we're just standing here waiting for the traffic light to change?"

"Young man, if you'll just help me to get on with that trunk and four suitcases, I'm sure my daughter will fix you a nice cool glass of lemonade."

Hitlerism Still Lives

By George Sokolsky

Some time ago, I received a letter from E. Mullins of the Policy Committee of the Institute for Biopolitics of Chicago questioning me as to the truth of the report the aforesaid Mullins had received from H. L. Hunt, the oil tycoon, that Lenin, Trotsky and I made the Russian Revolution. Amused, I replied that it must have been another feller.

Subsequently I heard that some Chicago private eyes, formerly FBI agents, were searching through files of my voluminous writing. Their apparent object was to discover whether I was or was not Zinoviev or Kameney, or maybe Madame Kollontai or perhaps even Elsa Maxwell.

The conspiracy deepens!

Behold! I am told that a Chicago millionaire, who I assumed is a friend of mine, is financing the Institute for Biopolitics, which made me a bit miserable, for the name mentioned is that of a good American. Let us pull a veil over it all!

Then I received a letter from the Institute for Biopolitics saying: "Your support is needed today!" The document is addressed to "The Whitemen of America." The subject of the letter is "Parasitism." The first paragraph of this letter reads:

"The philosophy of the group led by Jews, which now holds power in the United States and in the other 'people's democracies', is that of humanism. This doctrine holds that since all human beings are equal, any human being who works harder and earns more shall have a percentage of his earnings taken from him and donated to those who work less or not at all. As any biologist knows, the human beings who subsist on the efforts of others are parasites . . . the philosophy of humanism is the philosophy of parasitism."

The House Committee on Un-American Activities in 1954 issued a report on "Neo-Fascist and Hate Groups." Among those mentioned was the National Renaissance Party and the report notes that Eustace Mullins, my Chicago pen pal, wrote an article for the NRP Bulletin, entitled, "Adolf Hitler: An Appreciation."

He is also noted to be a staff writer for "Common Sense," a particularly vicious anti-Semitic publication. In his article on Hitler, Mullins wrote on October 1952:

"Eventually America must admit her debt to Adolf Hitler for it was Hitler who first called up on all Aryan people to unite and challenge (sic) Jewish economic and political power. It was Hitler who first enunciated the doctrine of national self-determination and led the armies of Christian Europe in a great crusade against the godless Jews of the Kremlin. Hitler, like Christ before him, was crucified on a Cross of Gold through the duplicity of his own Christian people."

Mullins is associated with Maynard O. Nelsen who heads the "Realpolitical Institute," which gives the same P. O. Box in Chicago. From the record that I have gathered, Mullins is a very active and aggressive person. He seems to be obsessed with word "whiteman" and his Institute has published "Pax Americana, the Elite Whiteman's Guidebook," Mullins's associate, Maynard O. Nelsen, started his Neo-Naziism while still at the University of Minnesota where he paraded in a Nazi uniform and distributed Nazi literature. The police went after him and he had lots of trouble. In 1934, he founded the "Realpolitical Institute," which has, to repeat, the same P. O. address as the "Institute for Biopolitics." Nelsen is not only anti-Semitic but he is anti-Christian, he regarding Christianity as a Jewish subversive movement.

Another organization owned by these two men is called "M & N Associates." This firm engages in "Political Engineering." Here

Eustace Mullins signs himself "State Chairman of the Constitution Party of Illinois." In an article written by Mullins in this guise, he says that "J. Edgar Hoover's recent book, 'Masters of Deceit,' was largely written for him in the ADL offices in New York, for favors received."

A. D. L. refers to the Anti-Defamation League.

I have much more material on Mullins and Nelsen but this suffices to show what the Institute for Biopolitics is. We thought that Hitler was dead but it is apparently possible to make a living of his ghost. The Neo-Fascists and the Communists ought to get together to pool their resources in their mutual effort to damage the United States.

How To Cure Insomnia

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

One of the most universal complaints of modern man — and woman, too — is the familiar "I just can't get to sleep."

Insomnia is not a disease, although, of course, some cases might be related to a specific disease.

Far more often, though, the trouble can be traced to one or more of three things: food, too much or too little of it; worry, and inability to relax.

Let me give you a few tips which may help you to sleep more quickly.

First, let's take the matter of food.

You're Telling Me!

By WILLIAM RITT
Central Press Writer

Radio station WVIL, operated by the U. S. Bureau of Standards in Colorado emits only one sound 24 hours a day—"beep! beep! beep! However, it's at least free of commercials!

A London model has just been elected "Miss Gum Label of 1960." Just how sticky can these beauty contests get?

The marriage of that Midwest couple who were wed in a taxi-cab certainly got off to a running start.

A chemist has extracted what he terms "good drinking" alcohol from natural gas. The man at the next desk wants to know if you gulp it or sniff it to get that "balloony" feeling.

A person's opinion as to what constitutes a "living" wage, says Zedok Dumkopf, depends on whether he's paying or receiving it.

Don't eat too much shortly before going to bed and then expect to get a good night's sleep. Even if you eat several hours before turning in for the night, if you have downed food that is not easily digestible your stomach might keep you awake.

You don't have to go to bed hungry. That may also keep you awake.

A light snack is permissible, so is a glass of warm milk. Incidentally, you might try avoiding coffee, tea and the cola drinks, which contain caffeine, after mid-afternoon.

Worrying about family and office problems will keep almost anybody awake. Therefore, don't discuss problems just before bedtime. Try to patch up any domestic quarrel before you go to bed.

All the things above may interfere with sleep. But relaxing properly is the real key to a good night's slumber.

To help you get into a sleepy mood, you might take a warm bath before retiring. Listening to relaxing music is good, too, and reading some soothing or familiar story might also help.

Make yourself comfortable. If you want the window open, why open it by all means. Don't, however, feel that an open window promotes good health. This isn't necessarily true.

I suggest you keep the temperature of the bedroom just cool enough to require a light blanket. If you still can't get to sleep, try this one:

Pretext that you have just awakened and find that you still have a couple of hours to sleep before you have to arise for work. This may do the trick.

Background to the Summit

Khrush To Avoid War Risk In Achieving Commie Goal

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst
Nikita Khrushchev has sayings to fit almost any occasion. For the summit meeting next week it's: "To kill the bugs one needn't burn down the house."

This attitude seemed to dominate the Soviet Premier's tactics in advance of the summit meeting opening Monday in Paris. World communism, patently, still aims at world domination. But achieving it by force could risk burning down the whole house in a nuclear war.

To that extent, it might be said that Khrushchev sincerely wants peace. Why, then, his belligerent blasts at the West, such as the one before the Supreme Soviet last week?

For one thing, the United States indicates it will resist a peace imposed on the world on Soviet terms. For another, there are impatient forces in the background in the Communist world, nagging at Khrushchev and threatening to force him into repeating Stalin's old mistakes.

Communism, a dynamic movement, risks stagnation if it stands still. Khrushchev seems to feel it has plenty of room to move elsewhere than in Europe while it pursues a dogged, long-range attack on NATO's foundations. A factor behind Khrushchev's energetic peace offensive and evident anxiety for a summit meeting seemed to have been a wish to give momentum to a drive against the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Its liquidation, if it was to be achieved at all, would take time.

One reason for NATO's existence was a Stalin mistake. His grab for Berlin and openly warlike posture frightened the West into close military cooperation. Khrushchev's thrusts have been mostly tactical, political feints showing little inclination to repeat Stalin's errors. Only in an atmosphere of relaxed tension could Khrushchev hope to pull NATO apart.

Yet Khrushchev's blast last week could hardly be considered a contribution to relaxed tension. Perhaps there was more to it than time than just the familiar Communist procedure: Advance and retreat, threat and blandishment. There are strong indications Khrushchev's all-out peace offensive tactics have been challenged.

within his own party and among the U.S.S.R.'s allies.

Khrushchev, as many a Communist statement has testified, seemed confident that the balance of political authority was swinging to the Communist side throughout the uncommitted world. His plan seemed to have been to sustain enough pressure to focus world attention on Berlin and Germany, but not enough to upset the peaceful coexistence ap- pleat. Communism could move, meanwhile, in Asia, Africa and Latin America.

Soviet demands in Germany were made in the name of solicitude for peace. West Berlin, three quarters of a city 110 miles inside Red-ruled East Germany, has been an abnormal situation, said Khrushchev, and what could be more reasonable than making it an international free city, perhaps under the United Nations?

That would end the American, British, French and Soviet occupation of Berlin. The U.S. occupation is a token one, but its existence deters Communist dreams of seizing the whole city. With the Americans out and the U.N. administering West Berlin, the Soviets would have a say in its affairs. The U.N. would be a far less effective deterrent.

The two Germanys, said Khrushchev, constitute an abnormal situation, and therefore nations which fought the Nazis should sign peace treaties with both of them. That would make things nice and normal. East Germany, thus recognized, could then proceed with logical-sounding demands on West Berlin as a city within its territory and subject to its sovereignty.

By Khrushchev reckoning, the peace treaties would mean withdrawal of all troops from Germany. The Soviets would withdraw a few hundred miles. The Americans would get out of Europe. There is no place else for the installations now in West Germany. NATO would become a tottering shell.

Could the Communists then be stopped in Europe? Not by ground forces. The United States might threaten from afar with nuclear weapons. But what about the NATO partners? Would they prefer nuclear war over their soil to nonresistance? And would the Soviets stand still and wait for the first blow?

Thus seemed to go the reasoning behind the peaceful coexistence offensive: Soft words, veiled threats, promises, and above all, patience.

But Khrushchev's speech last week went beyond all that. It was belligerent. Like Stalin's in the past, it could stiffen the Allied will toward unified resistance.

Perhaps Khrushchev still did not want to burn down the house to get at the bugs. But it was possible that the impatient ones with whom he must deal had thrust a sledgehammer into his hands. And with it, Khrushchev may have damaged severely the delicate peaceful coexistence structure he had been building so carefully for the past several years.

Conducts Tour

General Telephone Co.'s first public Open House last week was attended by more than 300 persons.

Tours were conducted from the firm's modern toll room to its complex central office equipment department. Telephone Co. officials said visitors were amazed at the many different items of equipment needed for efficient modern telephone services.

One visitor was heard to say, "Everyone should visit their telephone office in a tour such as this and I'm sure they would appreciate their telephone service much more."

Hostesses who served as guides for the evenings were Misses Beverly Minor, Nancy Rathburn and Delores Mavis, plus Mrs. Lorraine Ballentine and all employees of the local branch office.

The tours were concluded with refreshments served by Mrs. Kathryn Valentine and Mrs. Doris Oakes. Company officials commended their Circleville personnel for performing their tasks successfully.

Summit Conference Reports To Disrupt TV Schedules

NEW YORK (AP)—The Paris summit sessions will disrupt a lot of viewing habits during the next few days, but the big television event promises to be the CBS Playhouse 90 production of "In The Presence of Mine Enemies," originally believed too controversial for network airing. All three networks will preempt regular schedules for their briefing and interpretive series on the summit sessions.

Tonight there is NBC's version of Mark Twain's "Roughing It," (Eastern Daylight Time) with James Daly playing the older Twain looking back of his experiences during Gold Rush days "Person to Person" (CBS, 10:30-11) visits former President Herbert Hoover.

On Sunday, Carl Reiner takes over the Dinah Shore Show for the evening (NBC, 9-10) with help from Jane Powell, Julie London, Audrey Meadows and Jose Ferrer.

There is a repeat of Alec Guinness' amusing "The Wicked Scheme of Jehal Deeks" Tuesday night (NBC, 8:30-9:30).

Playhouse 90, on Wednesday (8:30-10 p.m.) is the drama about the Warsaw ghetto during the Nazi occupation, and stars Charles Laughton, Arthur Kennedy, Sam Jaffe and Oscar Homolka. It is followed (on NBC, 10-11) with a Jack Benny special with guests Danny Thomas, Raymond Burr and the McGuire Sisters.

Perhaps Khrushchev still did not want to burn down the house to get at the bugs. But it was possible that the impatient ones with whom he must deal had thrust a sledgehammer into his hands. And with it, Khrushchev may have damaged severely the delicate peaceful coexistence structure he had been building so carefully for the past several years.

Phone Co.

Conducts Tour

General Telephone Co.'s first public Open House last week was attended by more than 300 persons.

Tours were conducted from the firm's modern toll room to its complex central office equipment department. Telephone Co. officials said visitors were amazed at the many different items of equipment needed for efficient modern telephone services.

One visitor was heard to say, "Everyone should visit their telephone office in a tour such as this and I'm sure they would appreciate their telephone service much more."

Hostesses who served as guides for the evenings were Misses Beverly Minor, Nancy Rathburn and Delores Mavis, plus Mrs. Lorraine Ballentine and all employees of the local branch office.

The tours were concluded with refreshments served by Mrs. Kathryn Valentine and Mrs. Doris Oakes. Company officials commended their Circleville personnel for performing their tasks successfully.

Church Holds Annual Convention at Cincinnati

More than 600 clerical and lay delegates to the 40th annual convention of the Synod of Ohio of the United Lutheran Church in America will include the Rev. Ronald M. Brant, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, Stoutsville, and Mr. Paul B. Hartley, lay representative of the congregation.

The convention will begin Monday at the Sheraton - Gibson Hotel in Cincinnati and will continue through Wednesday.

A special convention dinner will be held Tuesday at the hotel, marking the 40th anniversary of the Synod and of the Synod's oldest boards, the Board of Home Missions, which will plan the program.

The Synod of Ohio was organized in 1920 by a merger of the East Ohio Synod, the Synod of Miami, the Wittenberg Synod and the District Synod of Ohio. In 1920 the Synod had 266 congregations with a total of 64,966 members. In 1960, the Synod numbers 305 congregations and 172,414 members.

Highlighting the convention will be reports Wednesday morning and afternoon by the Hon. James F. Henninger, official ULCA representative to the meeting. Dr. Henninger, common pleas court judge at Allentown, Pa., is a member of the executive board of the ULCA.

He also is a member of the Joint Commission on Lutheran Unity and will report to the convention plans for the forthcoming merger of the United Lutheran Church with three other Lutheran groups, The Augustana Evangelical Lutheran Church, the American Evangelical Lutheran Church and the Finnish Evangelical Lutheran Church of America (Suomi Synod).

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

This Theory Old as 'Heels'

DEAR ABBY: You said in your column that you thought it was wrong for a fellow and girl to kiss and make out in a show. I disagree with you.

Nowadays parents are too strict and old-fashioned. With the H-Bomb ready to go off in our faces any minute, we young people should get in all the fun and love possible. It may be our last chance.

LIVE TODAY

DEAR LIVE: That theory is as old as the "heels". The "live today—for tomorrow may never come" philosophy is dandy only if tomorrow doesn't come. So far, "tomorrow" has arrived on schedule every day without fail. Better think of another excuse.

DEAR ABBY: In a confidential message you attempted to give comfort to a reader who felt neglected and ignored. "Remember Whistler's Father," you said.

For your information, you don't have to feel sorry for Whistler's father. He was Major George Washington Whistler, one of the greatest construction engineers of all time. He designed and built the Trans-Siberian Railway for the czar of Russia in 1843.

The old lady merely "sat".

Sincerely yours, CASEY R.

DEAR ABBY: My father recently passed away after a lingering illness. We had the problem of explaining death to our little girl, who is eight. I told her in a nice way that Grandpa went to live with God in heaven. I explained that heaven is a beautiful place and we will all go there some day. I also told her that Grandpa was very sick and he is much happier where he is now. She accepted it and didn't cry a bit.

My husband and the rest of his family seem so surprised that I told her these things. They keep telling her that her Grandpa is "away" and will be back. If I am wrong, I'd like to know. If they are wrong, please tell them.

YOUNG MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: You are right. Children must be taught the facts of death (as well as life) and you explained it beautifully. It is foolish and unkind to tell a child that a person who has passed away will "be back". When the child learns the truth (as he surely will) he will lose confidence in the one who deceived him.

DEAR ABBY: Four years ago I gave birth to a child out of wedlock. I had to put my maiden name on his birth certificate. I have since married. Pretty soon my child will be going to school and I want him to carry his father's name. Can I have his name changed on his birth certificate, and if so, how, please?

NEED YOUR HELP

DEAR NEED: Get in touch with your Department of Public Health and they will change it for you. There is no publicity or red tape in this type of name change and it costs about a dollar.

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ringgold Ladies Aid Nominates Officers

The Ladies Aid of Ringgold EUB Church met at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Floyd Adams, 458 E. Franklin St. at 2 p. m. Thursday. There were 15 members and seven guests present.

The meeting was called to order by the vice president, Mrs. Wallace Peters. The group sang songs and Mrs. Louis Koch led in prayer. The Rev. Adams read the scripture from 23 psalm.

Minutes were read and approved with roll call and payment of dues. The Rev. Adams presided at the election of new officers. These officers are to take office the first of June.

Mrs. Christine Peters, president; Mrs. Helen Barr, vice president; Mrs. Wilhemina Drum, secretary; Mrs. Iron Rutter, assistant secretary; Mrs. Clara Drum, treasurer; Mrs. Leona Peters, assistant treasurer; Mrs. Irene Dresbach, Building Fund treasurer; Mrs. Leona Peters assistant Building fund treasurer; Mrs. Bertha Compton, Chorister; Mrs. Leona Peters, assistant Chorister; Mrs. Ruth Peters, Pianist; Miss Dorothy Barr.

Circle 3 Has Meet

Circle No. 3 of the WSCS of the First Methodist Church met Monday in the home of Mrs. George M. Meyers.

Mrs. Archer was in charge of the business meeting. The group decided to send a "Blessing Box" to members for the summer months.

Mrs. Miles Reefer led devotions. Mrs. Douglas Cotterman, in charge of the program, gave a talk entitled, "Lamp Unto My Seat".

Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Meyers, to 17 members.

Monroe Council Holds Meeting

The Monroe Township Advisory Council No. 10 held their May meeting, Wednesday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Stubbs.

The meeting was called to order by the chairman, Francis Furness. The discussion leader, Turney Sheets presented the topic "How Can We Improve Our Fairs" which was read and discussed.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served to: Mr. and Mrs. Clark Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. Elbee Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Furness, Mr. and Mrs. Turney Sheets, son Terry, Mrs. William Davis, Janet, Joyce, Jimmy and Jeffrey and Mr. and Mrs. Stubbs, Linda and Mark.

Ashville Tops West Jeff, 6-2

Bronc Nine Ready
For Semifinals

Ashville's baseball squad advanced in the Central District Class A tournament with a decisive 6-2 victory over visiting West Jefferson yesterday.

Bronco Dick Wilcox tossed a neat three-hitter at West Jeff to run his season record to 8-0 and paved the way for Ashville's second win in the tournament. Coach Gregg's force stands 10-2 overall.

The decision pushed Ashville into the tournament semifinals. The Broncs will meet the winner of the Darby Twp. - Rosary game which probably will be played today.

Ashville exploded early yesterday, counting two runs in the first inning and four more in the third. West Jefferson scored both its tallies in the fourth.

WILCOX was in command most of the way as he fanned three and walked three. The defeat was marked against Lilly who whiffed two and issued one pass. Both hurlers went the distance.

Wilcox aided his own cause with a double. Teammate Phil Reese was two for three at the plate, including a two-bagger.

Bob Hoover also smacked two hits in three trips. Gregg, Bainter and Roof accounted for the other Bronco bingles.

Lilly, in addition to his pitching duties, was the top stickman for West Jefferson. He smacked two singles in three tries.

West Jeff committed three errors, while Ashville bobbled only once.

Booster Club Of Kingston In Final Meet

The Kingston - Union Athletic Booster Club held its last meeting of the school year Monday. Thirty-three persons attended the covered-dish dinner in the high school cafeteria.

Project reports were given by Laurence Kerns and Coach Gary Walsh.

It was voted that spring sports awards be given from the Booster Club to four senior boys, one baseball and three track members, and two senior girls for volleyball.

Election of officers was held and new officers for 1960 - 61 are: Betty Sims, president; Harvey Large, vice president; Irene Kerns, secretary; and Ronald Leasingham, treasurer.

VOLLEY ball games provided entertainment for the remainder of the evening.

The booster club, formed this year had a total of 91 members.

Dodgers Recall Strongbow Howard

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The puncheon Los Angeles Dodgers have recalled strongboy Frank Howard from their Spokane farm club. To make room for him, they placed veteran outfielder Carl Furillo on the inactive list.

Howard joined the world champions in San Francisco for their game tonight against the Giants. He brought a .371 batting average from Spokane, including 24 runs batted in and four homers.

Furillo, 38, is in his 15th season with the Dodgers. By finishing it he would be guaranteed $285-a-month from baseball pension fund, starting at age 50.

Another 2-Hitter Brings Victory to Frisco Giants

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Pity those poor San Francisco Giants. They had hitters and sluggers so they traded for more pitching. And what happens? Now the hitters don't hit and the sluggers get hurt, but they've got a two-game lead, a six-game streak and the best pitching in the National League — thanks to three guys they had all the time.

Right-hander Jack Sanford came up with the third two-hitter of the season by the staff, second in two days, for another 1-0 victory over Philadelphia Thursday. That gave the Giants, held to six hits by loser Robin Roberts and reliever Dick Farrell, their longest winning string since moving to San Francisco in 1958 and

SPORTS BRIEFS

NEW YORK (AP) — The fate of the Continental League will be decided in Washington beginning next Thursday as the third major baseball league battles the present majors for survival from its current embryonic state.

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Gold Nugget and Gait Way Sonny sloshed through mud Thursday night to finish in a dead heat in the featured Class C-2 pace at Lebanon Raceway's harness race meeting.

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — Miami University's 26th annual high school track and field meet opens here today with Springfield favored to win its 14th Class AA team championship.

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Billy Maxwell, the Texan who has been coming frustratingly close for two years, led a tournament undisputed for the first time in that span today. He was out front in the $30,000 Colonial National Invitation with a 3-under-par 67.

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds carried an eight-game winning streak home today but they didn't need a Brink's truck to carry home the club's share of the receipts from a three-day stay in Chicago.

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians — home from a swing through the East in which they compiled a 5-3 record — open a four-game series with the league-leading Chicago White Sox tonight.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Natural Resources Department described Ohio's fishing situation today in one word.

added their lead over idle Pittsburgh.

Third place Milwaukee dropped St. Louis to a sixth straight defeat, winning 4-3 on Ed Matthews' tie-breaking home run in the eighth inning. Cincinnati stretched its winning streak to eight with a 14-1 romp against Chicago's Cubs.

The Giants didn't get a man on base until Willie Kirkland singled with two out in the fifth. Kirkland stole second, continued to third on rookie catcher Clay Dalrymple's bum throw and scored on Hobie Landrith's single.

Mathews' sixth home run, third in two games, broke a 3-3 tie for the Braves and beat reliever Larry Jackson (1-5). The Cards, now 0-10 on the road, got their first two runs on a pair of doubles by Bill White and tied it in the eighth on pinch-hitter Curt Flood's sacrifice fly after starter Bob Buhl had walked the bases loaded. Bob Rush (1-0) won it in relief for the Braves.

The Reds scored seven runs in the first and six in the second with 11 of their 17 hits. Six runs were unearned. Bob Anderson (0-1) lost it. Right-hander Bob Purkey (2-1) was the winner. The Cubs, playing their first game in a week after six consecutive postponements, scored their run, unearned, in the fourth inning.

Boston's Red Sox, playing their best at home, as usual, suddenly have won four in a row and six of their last seven, barging into second place, only a half-game shy of the American League lead.

And it's all happened just 2½ weeks after that talk about club dissension and a quick gate for Manager Billy Jurges.

They made it with their second straight victory over Chicago's first place White Sox Thursday, a 1-0 decision on Tom Brewer's two-hit pitching and a ninth-inning single by Pete Runnels, who took over the AL batting lead at 426. Bob Shaw was the loser, giving up nine hits.

Boston leap-frogged the New York Yankees, who skidded from second to fourth with a 3-2 11-inning defeat by Cleveland. The Indians, taking third place and also within a half-game of the lead, put it away on Russ Nixon's home run as right-hander Gary Bell out-duelled Ralph Terry for his first victory over the Yankees in six career decisions.

The second division clubs—Baltimore, Detroit, Washington and Kansas City — were rained out.

Rain Again Halts Tryouts

Rain last night forced cancellation of Circleville Little League and Babe Ruth League tryouts for the fourth time in five days.

Persistent LL officials will try again at 6 p. m. today when eight, nine and 10-year-old youths are to report. Tryouts will last until all lads have participated, even if it requires turning on ball field lights.

Tomorrow will be the final day of tryouts. They will start at 1 p. m. for all 11-year-old youths on the small diamond and for 13, 14 and 15-year-old boys on the softball diamond for the Babe Ruth League.

All Little League major league and Babe Ruth League managers are urged to be on hand to examine the boys trying out.

Tiger Teams Scheduled If Rain Stops

Held to a standstill the last few days by weather, the Circleville High School track and baseball teams are scheduled for action today providing rain doesn't pepper Central Ohio again.

The track team of Coach John Current is slated at the all-important Arlington Relays. Coach Dick Fisher's baseballers are carded at Greenfield.

Both teams have been held to a minimum of practice since last week.

The track squad, undefeated for the season, hopes to continue its winning ways if the relays are run today. The diamond nine seeks to get back in the win column after three losses in a row.

Cincinnati used 12 pitchers in its first five games this spring.

Both teams have been held to a minimum of practice since last week.

The track squad, undefeated for the season, hopes to continue its winning ways if the relays are run today. The diamond nine seeks to get back in the win column after three losses in a row.

Cincinnati used 12 pitchers in its first five games this spring.

Jackson, Muhlenberg Twps. Celebrate Sesquicentennial

The olden days returned—just like they used to be—last Friday, in the Jackson School Auditorium.

The occasion was the Jackson-Muhlenberg Sesquicentennial event based on the early settlers of the townships. Before a capacity crowd, a program was presented and displays were shown.

The program began with a colonial dance, "The Minuet," performed in full costume and wigs by Jackson grade children. They were Patricia Schleich, Larry Reid, Suzanne Steinhauer, James Minor, Becky Stevenson, Dick Overly, Linda Minor and Bruce List.

A style show of authentic clothing donated by Jackson-Muhlenberg families was the main event. Directed and narrated by Mrs. Sally Anderson, the show was prepared by the Home Economics Department.

MODELING was done of four major clothing eras. They were: 1860-1900—Miss Tackett and

Paul Hoskins, a couple; Miss Luper and Kathleen McCloud, dress outfits; Sue Ann Radcliff and Martha Chester, housedresses; Donna Mowery, Rose Good and Betty Johnson, nightgowns;

Joy Ann Maughmer, Judy Vallente and Joann McNeal, suits and coats; Glenda Melvin, Sandy Smith, Barbara Renick and Linda Hinton, dresses; bride, Barbara Riggins; attendant, Theresa Riggins, and flower girl, Janelle Thompson.

1900-1920—Jeannie Walker, Linda Follrod and Joan McFarland, dresses, and Beverly Roy, evening gown.

1920-1930—Mrs. Mary Hamilton, Barbara Diffendal, Judy Allen and Linda Minor, dresses.

1930-1940—Barbara Blake, Nancy Stevenson and Geraldine Mounts, dresses and suits, and Janet Lemaster and Shirley Martin, evening gowns; bride, Wanda Tatman and attendant, Shirley Johnson.

THERE WERE two skits acted

out with the participation of students.

The first, "The Old District School," was led by Gary Thompson, the schoolmaster with these groups: A-B-C group—Sally Minor, Steven Cline, Sharon Ward, Terry Neff and Deloris Karshner;

First Readers—Doris Ann Diffendal, Patsy Welsh, Dennis Wood, Mike Cline and Donna Smallwood; Fourth Readers Mary Ann Hoffman, Steven Holbrook and Larry Selby;

Primary Geography—Keith Karshner, Ronnie Malone, Brad Warner and Donna McFarland; Advanced Geography Class—Dixie Crosby, Charles Crosby, Ronnie Justus, Corliss Hyer, Denver Mounts, Brad Thompson, Joan McFarland, Marion Ward and Patricia Riggins;

Spelling—Sue Pontious, Linda Tatman, Melanie Dudleson, Steve

Kovoloeki, Joyce Welsh, Billy Gibson and Ray Mowery.

The second skit showed an early church service. The minister was Roy Whaley, senior, and organists were Judy Huston and Sally Hines. Parishioners were:

ALICE SMALLWOOD, Glenna Holbrook, Cathy Beekman, Kathy Diffendal, Julia Boggs, Bobby Gene Blackburn, Donna Justus, Jody Holbrook, James Pontious, Janet Hare, Clark McFarland, Charles Ward, Ronnie Ward, Jackie Beekman, Sherry Boyer, Florence McFarland, Jerry Timmons, Helen Cornwell, Tom Fleming, Deloris O'Conner, Steve Kovoloeki, Linda Darst and Melanie Dudleson.

Throughout the program the following readings were given on local history:

Early settlers—Sandy Smith;

District Schools—Donna Mowery, and Early Schools—Larry Dudleson.

On display in the auditorium and on stage were articles contributed by local families including a complete kitchen scene, books, furniture, dolls and jewelry.

The committee in charge of this program was: Newell Stevenson, Miss Mary Shortridge, Mrs. Marvyn Rhoades, Mrs. Milton Renick and Miss Dhele Renick.

Pilots in Britain's V-force can still eat while flying 10 miles high at more than the speed of sound. Sandwiches are cut into inch-square tidbits to pop under their oxygen masks.

Jackson, Muhlenberg Twps. Celebrate Sesquicentennial

The olden days returned—just like they used to be—last Friday, in the Jackson School Auditorium.

The occasion was the Jackson-Muhlenberg Sesquicentennial event based on the early settlers of the townships. Before a capacity crowd, a program was presented and displays were shown.

The program began with a colonial dance, "The Minuet," performed in full costume and wigs by Jackson grade children. They were Patricia Schleich, Larry Reid, Suzanne Steinhauer, James Minor, Becky Stevenson, Dick Overly, Linda Minor and Bruce List.

A style show of authentic clothing donated by Jackson-Muhlenberg families was the main event. Directed and narrated by Mrs. Sally Anderson, the show was prepared by the Home Economics Department.

MODELING was done of four major clothing eras. They were: 1860-1900—Miss Tackett and

Paul Hoskins, a couple; Miss Luff and Kathleen McCloud, dress outfits; Sue Ann Radcliff and Martha Chester, housedresses; Donna Mowery, Rose Good and Betty Johnson, nightgowns;

Joy Ann Maugher, Judy Vallente and Joann McNeal, suits and coats; Glenda Melvin, Sandy Smith, Barbara Renick and Linda Hinton, dresses; bride, Barbara Riggins; attendant, Theresa Riggins; and flower girl, Janelle Thompson.

1900-1920—Jeannie Walker, Linda Follrod and Joan McFarland, dresses, and Beverly Roy, evening gown.

1920-1930—Mrs. Mary Hamilton, Barbara Diffendal, Judy Allen and Linda Minor, dresses.

1930-1940—Barbara Blake, Nancy Stevenson and Geraldine Mounts, dresses and suits, and Janet Lemaster and Shirley Martin, evening gowns; bride, Wanda Tatman and attendant, Shirley Johnson.

THERE WERE two skits acted

out with the participation of students.

The first, "The Old District School", was led by Gary Thompson, the schoolmaster with these groups: A-B-C group—Sally Minor, Steven Cline, Sharon Ward, Terry Neff and Deloris Karshner;

First Readers—Doris Ann Diffendal, Patsy Welsh, Dennis Wood, Mike Cline and Donna Smallwood; Fourth Readers—Mary Ann Hoffman, Steven Holbrook and Larry Selby;

Primary Geography—Keith Karshner, Ronnie Malone, Brad Warner and Donna McFarland; Advanced Geography Class—Dixie Crosby, Charles Crosby, Ronnie Justus, Corliss Hyer, Denver Mounts, Brad Thompson, Joan McFarland, Marion Ward and Patricia Riggins;

Spelling—Sue Pontious, Linda Smith, Melanie Dudleson, Steve

Kovolooski, Joyce Welsh, Billy Gibson and Ray Mowery.

The second skit showed an early church service. The minister was Roy Whaley, senior, and organists were Judy Huston and Sally Hines. Parishioners were:

ALICE SMALLWOOD, Glenna Holbrook, Cathy Beekman, Kathy Diffendal, Julia Boggs, Bobby Gene Blackburn, Donna Justus, Jody Holbrook, James Pontious, Janet Hare, Clark McFarland, Charles Ward, Ronnie Ward, Jackie Beekman, Sherry Boyer, Florence McFarland, Jerry Timmons, Helen Cornwell, Tom Fleming, Deloris O'Conner, Steve Kovolooski, Linda Darst and Melanie Dudleson.

Throughout the program the following readings were given on local history:

Early settlers—Sandy Smith;

District Schools—Donna Mowery, and Early Schools—Larry Dudleson.

On display in the auditorium and on stage were articles contributed by local families including a complete kitchen scene, books, furniture, dolls and jewelry. The committee in charge of this program was: Newell Stevenson, Miss Mary Shortridge, Mrs. Marveta Rhoades, Mrs. Milton Renick and Miss Del Renick.
